

Lynn Sjolund, Director

To: Members of the Jackson County Bar

Rogue Valley Chorale presents

Gilbert & Sullivan's

Trial by Jury

Cast of Characters

Judge	Honorable Ross G. Davis
Foreman of the Jury	Sheriff C. W. Smith
Bailiff/Usher	E. Roy Bashaw, Esq.
Defendant	John E. Ferris, Esq.
Plaintiff's Lawyer	Robert G. Casey, Esq.
Plaintiff	Miss Kimberly DeMoss

The Rogue Valley Chorale is pleased to present its production of Gilbert & Sullivan's "Trial by Jury." This production is being presented as a fundraiser for the Rogue Valley Chorale and will be presented in three performances in the historic Circuit Courtroom on the third floor of the Jackson County Courthouse.

We have all studied contract law, but few of us have been involved with an action for breach of contract to marry. Come and observe a musical and legal antiquity without worrying about MCLE credits, although an inquiry into that matter has been instituted by Oregon State Bar president Stuart Foster.

The performance will be in nineteenth-century English costumes and wigs. The plot is ridiculous: A lovers' mixup in a nineteenth-century People's Court. Judge Davis sings Judge Wapner's part.

The Rogue Valley Chorale is celebrating its sixteenth year as the premiere choral musical group in southern Oregon. The Rogue Valley Chorale is self-supporting through dues of members, donations and admissions to its productions.

You and your staff are invited to attend the production and to support the Chorale through a generous donation.

Performances are:	Friday, Sept. 14	12:10 p.m.	Program length is approximately 1 hour and 8:00 p.m.
	Sunday, Sept. 16	4:30 p.m.

Tickets: $10.00, available at Britt Ticket Office in Medford Center or at the door, or call 773-7477.

William P. Haberlach
Board Member
Rogue Valley Chorale
P. O. Box 842
Medford, OR 97501