Craterian Ginger Rogers Theater

The Rogue Valley Chorale's spring concert will feature Haydn's Missa in Tempore belli, or "Mass in Time of War." Written in 1796, and premiered while the Emperor Franz of Austria resisted Napoleon's march across Europe, this magnificent Austrian baroque composition features lyric choruses and virtuoso solo passages. The Mass is performed with chamber orchestra.

The second part of the concert consists of short works that the Chorale's conductor Lynn Sjolund has always wanted to present. Included is the tender and haunting "Pavane pour une infante défunte" by Ravel; "Like as a Culver," a lovely piece dedicated to Mr. Sjolund; "A La Puerta Del Cielo" (At the doorway of heaven), a sweet Spanish lullaby; Aaron Copland's evocative "Lark;" and much more. This concert is a rare musical treat not to be missed.

Lynn Sjolund
